THE CZAR'S REMAINS.
They Arrive at Moscow—The City in Mourning.

Associated Press Local Service.
MOSCOW, Nov. 11.—Sixteen today the streets of Moscow have been lined with thousands of people awaiting the arrival of the body of Czar Alexander. The city has almost disappeared under its mantle of white and black draperies and wears a mournful and solemn aspect. The streets and houses are covered with crepe and the lamp-posts are thus covered. Festoons of crepe cover the sidewalks. Arches, obelisks and masts have been erected and covered with elaborate and sombre designs. Everywhere can be seen portraits and busts of the late Czar draped with crepe. The funeral train with Czar Nicholas, the Czarina, Princess Alix, numerous grand dukes and grand duchesses, the Prince and Princess of Wales, high officials and officers arrived at 10:30 o'clock. The party were met by the Governor of Moscow, the high officials of the city, Grand Duke Michael, Grand Duke Sergius and his wife, Grand Duchess Elizabeth, M. Durovov, Minister of the Interior, and a most brilliant assemblage of military officers. Czar Nicholas and the grand dukes bore the coffin to the bearers. In the meanwhile cannon were booming from the Kremlin. At 11 o'clock the procession started for the Cathedral of St. Nicholas. The cortege was of immense length. In it imperial standards were borne by high officials, each of them followed by one of the dead Czar's saddle-horses. General officers carried the Czar's armorial bearings, state swords and insignia and decorations. Then followed a long array of clergy, bearing emblems and images, deputations, corporations and trade societies. The funeral car was drawn by eight horses and there was a guard of honor composed of eighty cadets. The cords of the pall, which had been reprieved were held by generals, then followed on foot the Czar, the Prince of Wales, the imperial household, etc. Behind them came the Czarina and other imperial and princely ladies in mourning carriages. The military escort was made up of five companies from different regiments, a battery of artillery and five squadrons of cavalry. The route from the station to the Kremlin was lined with troops. The coffin was placed upon an immense outstretched by a canopy embroidered in gold. The whole interior of the church was decorated with white and black draperies embroidered in silver. The Metropolitan of Moscow conducted the funeral service, which was marked with all the solemn pomp and circumstances of the orthodox church.

HELPED THE ALIENS.

The New Tariff Stimulates Trade in Foreign Countries.

Associated Press Local Service.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Statistical Bureau of the Department of State has published a set of advance sheets of consular reports embodying reports from United States consuls upon the propositions of the new tariff act so far as they have been manifested. There are reports from Bradford, the great English wool center; from Sheffield, the cutlery depot; from Northern Mexico, whence hides and live stock come; from Marseilles, the great exporting city of French fishery; from Glasgow and from Columbia, the latter particularly interesting as showing the failure of our retaliatory policy. All of the reports depict the depression existing at the seaports under the McKinley law, and the stimulation of trade consequent upon the passage of the new tariff act.

ALL TIED UP.

Few Returns Received Yesterday.

Much Difficulty in Obtaining Information.

Orange and Siskiyou Add Six or Eight Precincts to the List.

A Sensational Boom to be Started for Robert Lincoln—The Populists and the Recent Elections—Mr. Wilson.

Associated Press Local Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—With the close of the work of collection of returns on the gubernatorial contest in California Saturday night complete returns had been received from 2084 in the 2274 precincts in the State, and the result showed a plurality of 757 votes for Budd, or, if the figures accepted by the Democratic State Central Committee as Budd's plurality in San Francisco, namely 11,793, are considered, then Budd's plurality in the State at large at the close of the count. Saturday was 1234, with 190 precincts to hear from. Every effort was made today to collect the returns from as many of these missing precincts as possible, but they are in remote districts with no telephone or telephone connections, and with a very few exceptions no positive information in regard to the vote cast in these precincts has been obtained from the various county seats. The fact that nearly all telephone offices in the State are open, but a few hours on Sunday has added to the difficulty of collecting information. The only news of a positive character which has been received by the Associated Press today is the returns from five additional precincts in Siskiyou county, which give Estee a gain of 42 and the complete returns of Orange county, making three additional precincts which give Estee a gain of 56. Budd's plurality in San Francisco, according to the count reported at the Registrar's office yesterday, was 11,454, with three precincts to hear from. It is not claimed that these three precincts gave Budd more than 100 plurality, so that as far as can be determined now his plurality in this city is 11,550. Reckoned upon this basis, including the returns from the eight additional precincts in Orange and Siskiyou counties received today, the count now stands: The 2092 precincts in a total of 2374 precincts give Budd, 107,194; Estee, 106,211. Budd's plurality, 983. In addition to the above figures the Associated Press received some estimates from the counties of Marin, Sierra, Shasta and El Dorado, in which there were twenty-five precincts from which no returns had been received. These estimates are as follows: Sierra county, 270 plurality for Estee; Shasta, 180 for Estee; Marin, 195 for Estee; El Dorado, 35 for Budd. These figures represent the following gains for Estee over the figures which had previously been received from all the precincts: Sierra, 154; Shasta, 7; Marin, 10; total gain, 171. In the case of El Dorado county there is a gain of 6 votes for Budd, making Estee's net gain on these estimates, 255. The precincts which they represent number twenty-five, and, deducting the 255 votes from the total plurality, as given above, it leaves his plurality in 2117 precincts 728, with 157 precincts to hear from. These missing precincts are located in twenty-seven counties. Seventeen of these counties have, as far as the returns have been received, given a plurality to Estee, and the other ten have given pluralities to Budd. The counties in which the missing precincts are located (with the number of the same) which have so far given Republican pluralities are as follows: Alpine, 5; Butte, 2; Humboldt, 4; Lassen, 2; Los Angeles, 1; Mendocino, 2; Mono, 5; Nevada, 3; Placer, 14; Sacramento, 5; San Diego, 5; San Luis Obispo, 1; Santa Barbara, 1; Santa Cruz, 2; Siskiyou, 9; Trinity, 15; Yuba, 1; total, 103. The counties which have so far given Democratic pluralities, with the number of precincts missing in each, are as follows: Colusa, 1; Fresno, 6; Glenn, 2; Kern, 10; Lake, 2; Madera, 10; Mariposa, 13; Merced, 1; Modoc, 7; Toulumne, 5; total, 54. In the case of Mendocino and Yuba counties, while they both gave Democratic pluralities two years ago, they have given pluralities for Estee as far as the precincts have been reported. Mendocino gave Cleveland 316, but twenty-one out of fifty precincts have given Estee 158 plurality. Yuba gave Cleveland, 123, while all precincts but one have given Estee 27 plurality.

WILLIAM L. WILSON.
The West Virginian on the Democratic Defeat.

Associated Press Local Service.
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—In a letter to the Press from Washington, Hon. William L. Wilson gives his views of the cause of the defeat of the Democratic ticket. He writes: "Hard times is an enemy, however which no political party in America has ever been able to make a successful stand when in power. This, perhaps, will always be a weak point in popular government. When labor is out of employment, when the producer is kept in poverty, when our financial system is disorganized, the wisest administration of government and the most wholesome laws do not avail to save a party from temporary and disastrous overthrow. Moreover, the whole teaching of the protective system tends men to depend, not on individual effort, the plain virtues of industry, thrift and temperance, but on government aid and laws of Congress. Let me add also, that we, together with our progressive nation, are now passing through an era of change, of unrest and of somewhat tumultuous agitation. The rapid adoption of the great instruments of modern industry and trade, the complete revolution which these are bringing about in production and distribution, their steady obliteration of immemorial handicrafts, their dislocation of many industries—all this, together with the unsettled relations between labor and capital, have swept us into an era where for some years it may be increasingly difficult for any one party to hold on to the Federal government for even four years. "I do not believe the people have rebuked or discarded tariff reform in their action last Tuesday. In every campaign since 1856 except that of 1888, the Democratic party has won a decided victory on that issue. To contend, therefore, that the people have now chastised the Democratic party for doing what they put into their power to do, is to question their honesty and intelligence. If they have inflicted chastisement it is because the party did not carry out with sufficient promptness and thoroughness the work they committed to it. The long and indefensible delay in the Senate, the sinister suspicions that gathered around certain schedules and duties as they are framed now, kindled a disappointment and disgust among the rank and file of the party that led to apathy and even misjudged hostility in the recent elections. "I am no doubt that, had the bill which passed the House on the first days of February passed the Senate as early as April or May in substantially its original shape, the result in Missouri and in many other sections of the country would have been reversed and the Democrats might even have weathered the industrial storm with credit if not with success."

HE HADN'T HEARD OF IT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Chairman W. L. Wilson stopped over in Washington today and left tonight for New England, where he delivers three lectures. He declared a published report that he was to succeed Atty.-Gen. Olney in the Cabinet. "Nothing has been said to me on the subject, nor is there likely to be, for Atty.-Gen. Olney is a better Attorney-General than I would be."

POLITICAL TOPICS.

POPULIST SENATORS PEPPER AND STEWART TALK.

Their Party's Relations to the Old Parties—Mr. Wilson on the Democratic Defeat—A Boom for Lincoln's Son.

Associated Press Local Service.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Senator Peffer of Kansas, discussing the result of the recent election he said that the Populists had no reason to feel discouraged. "What we have lost in Congressmen," he said, "we have more than made up in votes. The reports generally published would lead people to suppose that we had suffered a material loss in all respects in Kansas. Such is not the case. In 1890 we had about 105,000 votes in that State; in 1892 about 113,000 and in the late election from 120,000 to 125,000 in the face of the fact that about 20,000 of our voters had left the State on account of the drought. We failed in the election of officers because we were not paired with the Democrats. We have every reason to feel encouraged for the future. In the country at large I feel confident that when the returns are for about 20,000 of our voters that vote to be little less than 2,000,000, which is about twice the Populist vote of two years ago."

When asked if he believed that Gov. Tillman should co-operate with the Populists, if he should be elected to the Senate, Peffer replied that he could not say. Gov. Tillman has never outlined his intentions in that respect. He called attention to the fact that Irby, who supposedly shares the political views of Tillman, had remained in the Democratic ranks. "Still," he added, "the time must come when all Democrats believing as Tillman and Irby do must ally themselves openly with the People's party. The Eastern Democrats are at all intents and purposes Republicans, and Democrats of the Tillman and Irby stripe cannot long remain in the same party organization with them."

The Senator declined to discuss the question of the probable organization of the Senate, after the 4th of March by the Republicans with the aid of such Populists, like himself, who had affiliated with the Republican party before they became Populists, further than to say the time was too far distant to speculate upon and in general way to remark that if the time came when the Populists should hold the balance of power in the Senate he had no doubt "they would exercise that power conservatively and wisely."

Senator Stewart of Nevada was less guarded than Senator Peffer in speaking of the assumption that certain of the Populist Senators would aid the Republicans in the organization of the Senate. He says emphatically that, so far as he is concerned, he will not enter into coalition with any of the old parties to secure the organization. "I don't care," he said, "which of the old parties controls the machinery of the Senate. There is no advantage to us to be gained by a combination with either the Republicans or the Cleveland Democrats. We do not care for the few paltry offices there are to be bestowed and could not afford to sacrifice our independence of action as a party, for them. So far as I am concerned personally, I do not care whether they put me on any committee or what they do with me, as long as I am entitled to my seat in the Senate and can get into the chamber. In fact, I can raise more money when entirely free from such obligations than when bound by them."

The Senator says he thinks that the Populists will be able to exercise a more potent influence by keeping actively aloof from entering into entangling alliances with either of the old parties, and it is his opinion that this is the policy that will be pursued by the third party in the Senate and that he will advise that this policy be pursued. He thinks that there is no doubt that when the test comes, Senator Jones will be found acting in full harmony with the Populist Senators and that, if Gov. Tillman should be chosen to succeed Senator Butler, he will also be found in the Populist column, as will also the two Senators to be chosen from North Carolina. This would give the Populist eight Senators as against forty two Republicans and thirty-eight Democrats, after the 4th of March. "The only ground," he said, in conclusion, "on which I should be willing to unite with the Republicans would be on a platform pledging that party to a free silver policy. I do not want any half-way measures, such as the coining of the American product, and I should know that whatever was promised would be nothing but a trap. I do not suppose to be caught with anything less than a compliance with our complete demands."

THE STATES.

Culberson's Plurality for Governor of Texas is Ample.

Associated Press Local Service.
DALLAS (Tex.), Nov. 11.—The returns from more than two-thirds of the State give Culberson a plurality of 37,247. The remaining counties to hear from will increase his plurality to 55,000. The Congressional delegation will stand eleven Democrats, eleven Republicans, one doubtful. There will be several contest cases.

A BOOM FOR LINCOLN'S SON.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Times will say in the morning: "At the proper time and at the proper place a Senatorial boom will be started for Bob Lincoln, which, by those interested in the proposed coup d'etat, is expected to land the son of Abraham Lincoln in the United States Senate as the successor of Senator Culberson."

IN THE LEAD.

GALVESTON, Nov. 11.—Late returns show that the Democratic candidates for Congress are still in the lead in every district, except the Twelfth, where the election of Noonan (Rep.) is conceded.

The Election Victim.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—An enormous crowd principally Scandinavians, attended the funeral this afternoon of Gus Colliander, who was shot during a tussle over a ballot-box early Wednesday morning. Delegations from the principal political clubs of the city were in attendance at the funeral and the floral tributes were numerous.

THE W. C. T. U.

Programme for the Twenty-first Annual Convention

Associated Press Local Service.
BOSTON, Nov. 11.—The programme of the twenty-first annual convention of the W. C. T. U., to be held at Cleveland, beginning Friday, November 16, was given out tonight. This convention will assume the nature of a historic anniversary. The original growth and entire history of the national W. C. T. U. will be revived and many of the most prominent workers of this and other countries will be present. The convention will last six days including Sunday, November 18, on which day the anniversary sermon will be preached by President J. W. Bashford, D.D., of the Ohio Wesleyan University. An interesting feature of the convention will be a testimonial to Gen. Neal Dow and an address by him. Among the noted workers and friends of the cause who are expected to be present are Mrs. E. J. Thompson, leader of the Great Crusade Band; Mother Stuart, the world-wide crusader; Lady Henry Somerset, president of the British C. T. A.; Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Jeannette, late president of the Indiana W. C. T. U.; Mme. Layah Bakarat of Syria, Mme. Chika Sakuria of Japan, the Misses F. J. Solomon, A. P. Ferguson and Annie McCummings of Cape Town, South Africa; Gen. Neal Dow, J. W. Batt, secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society; J. G. Woolley, Col. S. W. Mann, Anthony Comstock and Alice Blackwell, editor of the Woman's Journal.

SOUTHERN EDUCATORS.

A Convention Under Their Auspices to Meet at Galveston.

Associated Press Local Service.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—A Republican special train from Austin, Tex., says that the announcement was issued from the State Department of Education that the Southern Education Association will meet in Galveston on December 26, 27 and 28, the first meeting being held on the evening of December 26. The previous meetings of this association have been held in midsummer in Atlanta, Lookout Mountain, etc., but in consequence of the destruction of a trip to the South in winter, and the conflict of the summer meetings with the National Educational and various State associations, it has been decided to hold the meetings in midwinter. The meeting will be the largest and most representative gathering of teachers ever held on the Gulf of Mexico, and will include teachers from all parts of the United States. Mexico will be invited to send representatives to the meeting. The programme will include some of the foremost educational thinkers of the country.

RELICS OF NAPOLEON.

A Collection of Valuable Curios Purchased by Mr. de Young.

Associated Press Local Service.
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—M. H. de Young of San Francisco, Director-General of the Midwinter Exposition, has purchased for the Memorial Museum which will commemorate the success of that enterprise, one of the most valuable collections of relics of the Napoleonic dynasty that the world possesses. The collection is the result of a half century's work on the part of the enthusiastic lovers of antique and is now on exhibition at Tiffany's in this city. The collection consists of over 800 medals, jetons and coins in gold, silver, bronze and copper and memorabilia the leading events of the Napoleonic periods. Among the curios received by Mr. de Young for the museum is part of the famous collection of Alessandro Castellani, which was sold at the Hotel Druot, Paris, in 1881. These art treasures will be shipped to San Francisco in a few days.

THE ARLINGTON BURNED.

Fort Worth's Famous Hostelry a Total Loss.

Associated Press Local Service.
FORT WORTH (Tex.), Nov. 11.—The Arlington Inn, one of the most famous hotels in the South, burned this morning. The total loss is $150,000. The guests narrowly escaped with their lives, without having time to look after their personal effects. One lady, wife of Hon. W. B. Camp, lost several trunks containing costly trousseau, which, with her diamonds, were worth about $10,000.

IN A FOG.

The Steamer Crown of England Wrecked.

Struck on the Rocks Early Wednesday Morning.

The First Mate and Five Men Reach Santa Monica in a Small Boat—No Lives Lost.

The steamer Crown of England, bound north, struck on the rocks of one of the Santa Barbara Channel islands in a dense fog Wednesday morning, where she now lies, almost a total wreck, pinned firmly on the sharp points that project near the shore line. Shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning a small boat containing six weather-beaten and sorrowful-looking sailors was noticed to approach the wharf at Santa Monica. The few early risers who had wandered out to the beach were surprised at the unexpected appearance of the boat, for there was no ship or craft of any sort in the bay to which the men might belong. As the boat came nearer it was noticed that its occupants appeared to be much fatigued and worn out, and when they reached the beach quite a crowd had gathered around, curious to know from whence the strange sailors came. They were not kept long in suspense, for the spokesman of the little party soon told them of the wreck of the steamer. He said that himself and companions had been sent out to secure aid, and that after continued exposure of two days and two nights had been finally guided to the wharf by hearing the sound of a locomotive whistle. The man's name was Poole, and he had been first mate on board the unfortunate steamer.

THE MATS STORY.

After reading a short time and eating a square meal he was in condition to tell about his experiences which he did while making the trip to this city to communicate with the ship-owners of San Francisco. In brief, the substance of his story was as follows: "The Crown of England is an English-built ship. She has been engaged in coast traffic for some time, having been chartered by Rosenfield of San Francisco for a six months' term. I was the first mate aboard her and we have been hauling coal from Nantam for some time. At 7 a. m. Tuesday morning, having discharged our cargo at San Diego, we steamed out to sea and started on our return trip. A heavy fog obscured the land and hung down over the sea in a dense bank, as we went out, but we met with no mishap until we struck on the rocks Wednesday morning. We were running on what is known as the outward course. The same heavy fog prevailed that had floated in as we left San Diego, and Tuesday night a heavy sea began to run."

STRUCK WITHOUT WARNING.

"Nothing occurred to make us feel particularly uneasy during the early part of the night, but about 2 o'clock in the morning we struck on the rocks in about two fathoms of water. The steamer swung around, broadside on and the waves broke around her hull with great force. "There were no passengers on board, but we carried a crew of nearly twenty men. As the steamer struck, and we broke up we became anxious, for the shore was some distance away. Finally Fred Frandberg, a sailor, took a line and swam with it to the shore, and we were soon able to land. Several parties were started out to search the island for inhabitants, but none were found. Capt. Hamilton got lost while off on one of these hunts, and had great difficulty in finding his way back to camp."

TO SEEK AID.

"We concluded that we had struck on Santa Rosa Island, and on Friday morning, despairing of receiving assistance from other sources, it was agreed that I should take five men and try to reach Santa Monica. We had a hard time of it, and were on the shore until this morning, when we heard that whistle and steered our boat ashore at the wharf. "The steamer is badly damaged, and the loss will be heavy. However, she is insured by a Belfast, Ireland, company for 16,000 guineas, which is about one-half her value. Poole, upon reaching this city, communicated with the ship-owners of San Francisco, and it is thought that a steamer will be sent out today to rescue the captain and the remainder of the crew, who are now on the island."

THE STORY CORROBORATED.

"A Times reporter visited Santa Monica Canyon late last evening, where the five other sailors are camped, and they corroborated the statement made above. One of the men said that the pilot at San Diego had told the captain that it was rather dangerous to start out in such a heavy fog, but as there were no signs of the mist lifting, the captain had thought it best to proceed on his way. The sailors who accompanied Poole on his trip in the small boat were: Fred Frandberg, William Jones, Michael McLaughlin, Emil Smith and Jack Pierce. Santa Rosa Island is located off Point Huenehue, about sixty miles in a southerly direction from Santa Barbara. It is one of a group of three principal islands. Santa Cruz and San Miguel being the other two, which form the outer boundary of Santa Barbara Channel. In time past people have lived on the island, and the fact that the shipwrecked men were unable to discover any one is thought to be a singular circumstance and to indicate that perhaps they might have been mistaken in the exact location of the wreck."

Work of the Postoffice for One Year.

First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones Makes His Report to Headquarters.

Use and Abuse of the Frank—Expenditures and Receipts—Number of Parcels and Letters Delivered.

Associated Press Lead-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The first Assistant Postmaster-General Jones has submitted his annual report to the Postmaster-General. It is a review of the work in the department under his charge for the year ending June 30, 1894, and contains his recommendations for the improvement of the service. He recommends legislation to protect the postmarking stamp in use at postoffices as the stamp is now being used for unlawful purposes.

He reviews his recommendation for legislation to prevent the boycotting of postmasters by mailing of letters at places other than the office, which results in reducing the salaries of the postmasters. He also recommends special attention to the misuse of the franking privilege, which has resulted in some postmasters declining to send speeches or other matter presented for mailing. This department has been called upon to give special instructions to such matters.

"Instead of the name being written or placed on the envelope by the hand-stamp, it has been in some instances improperly printed thereon; the speeches therein contained have been printed by the printer, which formed no part of the Congressional Record, and therefore are subject to postage as third-class mail matter. In addition, the printer has printed matter sent by mail under the frank of the member have been found after delivery to contain printed matter outside of the Congressional Record, and therefore are subject to postage as third-class mail matter. As this department is required to carry, without a cent of revenue, hundreds of tons of franked matter, additional limitations should be placed on the use of the frank or a penalty of some kind should be imposed for its unlawful use, and I respectfully suggest that the attention of Congress be called to this matter for such action as it should deem proper."

Postmaster Jones recommends legislation allowing the suspension, without pay, not to exceed a certain number of days, of employees violating the postal rules; also that disabled employees may be granted leave of absence with continued pay; also some changes in the rules of the postoffice which were heretofore commended. The report gives details of the different divisions of the First Assistant's office. It is shown by the figures that the office has 149 first-class offices; 466 second-class, and 2587 third-class. The aggregate salaries of these are $5,709,700, and aggregate expenses $5,850,000. The following estimates are made for salaries of clerks, etc., for the next year: Compensation of postmasters, $18,500,000; clerks in postoffice, $10,100,000; postoffice light, first and second-class, $900,000; miscellaneous, incidentals and furniture of first and second-class postoffices, $150,000; advertising first and second-class, $100,000; rent of postoffices, $50,000.

Owing to the scant appropriation, the work of the free delivery system has been curtailed. There have been no new offices made free delivery offices during the year. There has been a slight increase in the number of carriers. The number of carriers during the year, Mr. Jones commends as heartily as he did last year the experimental free delivery system. The number of carriers during the year, Mr. Jones commends as heartily as he did last year the experimental free delivery system. The number of carriers during the year, Mr. Jones commends as heartily as he did last year the experimental free delivery system.

The number of parcels and letters delivered was 2,975,087, a gain of 267,240 pieces, the highest percentage in the history of mail matter yet attained by the dead letter office. Of the letters and parcels opened and recorded, 25,851 contained money amounting to $28,255; 29,090 contained drafts, money orders, etc., with a face value of $1,056,388; 4,170 contained postal notes, valued at $598; 40,214 contained paid and unpaid postal notes, etc.; 35,491 contained miscellaneous character; 35,491 contained photographs; 153,885 contained postage stamps, 94,402 contained articles of merchandise, books, etc.; 1,000 contained manuscripts and 5,915,645 were without separate inclosures and were returned to the writers, when practicable, or otherwise were destroyed after being returned to the writers. There were restored to the owners 18,108 letters containing $28,077; 27,910 containing drafts, notes, money orders, etc., with a face value of $1,056,388; 4,170 contained postal notes, valued at $598; 40,214 contained paid and unpaid postal notes, etc.; 35,491 contained miscellaneous character; 35,491 contained photographs; 153,885 contained postage stamps, 94,402 contained articles of merchandise, books, etc.; 1,000 contained manuscripts and 5,915,645 were without separate inclosures and were returned to the writers, when practicable, or otherwise were destroyed after being returned to the writers.

Postmaster Jones says that so vigorously have the provisions of the act of Congress been enforced that the mails from the United States have not been unduly delayed. "Green goods" men do not now undertake to receive replies through the mails, but use the telegraph or telephone. There are now recorded in the department 2611 fictitious names and addresses adopted by these "green goods" evildoers, not one of whom is receiving letters by mail. Several have been arrested and are now in the hands of the law.

OTHER FEATURES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The revenue of the Postoffice Department for the year ending June 30, 1894, shows a falling off, while the expenditures have increased. The deficiency for the fiscal year 1894 was $5,046,743, while the deficiency for 1894 is $5,046,533. The decrease of receipts was $216,484, and the increase of expenditures, $5,263,227. The total receipts for 1894 were $54,344,614, and receipts, $75,000,472. The department suffered losses amounting to $42,159 by outstanding bad debts and

The United States Offers to Mediate.

A Dispatch from Secretary of State Gresham Received at Tokio.

Other Powers in Favor of Forcible Intervention—The Chinese Court Removes from Peking—The Emperor Said to be Ill.

Associated Press Lead-wire Service.

TOKIO, Nov. 11.—(By Atlantic Cable.) United States Minister Dunn has communicated to the ministry the substance of an important cipher cable proposition, received from Secretary Gresham, at Washington. It suggests that if Japan will join in requesting the President of the United States to act as mediator in settling the war, he will exercise his good offices in that capacity. A similar proposition has been sent to China. The cable was received by Minister Dunn on Friday, and was presented at a special meeting of the ministry. An answer has not yet been sent.

The proposition presents a grave question to the ministry. They are urged, on one hand, by the popular sentiment, to continue the war and crush China. On the other hand, European powers are threatening intervention. The government is therefore in a difficult position. The ministry find great difficulty in reaching a decision on the American proposition, but the prospect is that it will be accepted. It is learned that four days ago France made a proposition to the United States to intervene. The proposition was rejected.

THE BELLAGUERES EXPECTED TO ACCEPT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—It is the belief here that China will readily accept the mediation of the United States, and that Japan will do so, after she is assured of proper indemnity from China.

It is not likely that Japan will accept the mediation unless $100,000,000 is offered. This will about represent what Japan has actually spent on the war. This is roughly equal to the amount of the reserve fund of $25,000,000 on hand when the war began. This has been spent. Then she negotiated a war loan of $50,000,000, a yen being about equal to an American dollar. This makes $75,000,000 actually used in the war. Besides this Japanese citizens have contributed large sums, and the government has incurred other large obligations.

The cable disclosure from Tokio that France made a proposition to the United States four days ago adds a new feature to the situation. European powers were urging positive intervention and this has been largely instrumental in inducing the United States to suggest mediation. The French proposition has been rejected. The situation, therefore, is an interesting game of international diplomacy. On one hand the great powers of Europe are threatening to forcibly come between China and Japan, while on the other hand the United States offers to come between them. The result will be of great importance to the world.

THE JAPANESE AT KIN-CHOW.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 11.—Admiral Marikawa, commander of the Japanese fleet, has received a dispatch from Kin-Chow, a Chinese port on the coast of Japan, confirming reports of Japanese victories at Chin-Chiu (Kin-Chow) and Ta-Lien-Wan. On the morning of Tuesday last one brigade of the Japanese force captured Chin-Chiu, and on the next day Ta-Lien-Wan was bombarded. The Japanese fleet, under the command of Admiral Marikawa, has been victorious in both engagements. HOW TO HELP.

Mrs. Josephine S. Lowell's Letter on the Labor Problem.

Associated Press Lead-wire Service. BOSTON, Nov. 11.—The following letter from Mrs. Josephine S. Lowell to Miss Frances Willard will be read at the National W.C.T.U. Convention, which assembles at Cleveland, November 18: "My Dear Miss Willard: You ask me to advise the Women's Christian Temperance Union how they can best help the working people, and I am very glad to give you my views of the matter, for I believe they can make themselves as strong a power for good in this direction as they have in any other field, but to accomplish this they must themselves desire justice in the relations between the employer and employee, and must create a public opinion which will demand it."

"In this country, with rare exceptions, justice is seldom found in these relations. Some times and in some places it is the laborer who is the stronger, and sometimes the employer. The employer is the stronger, while the employer cringes and relinquish all their rights to maintain peace, and more frequently the employer is arbitrary, and tyrannical, asserting loudly that they intend to manage their own business as they choose, and will not be interfered with by their employees. Here is the real point. There will never be justice between the employer and employee, consequently there will never be a lasting peace, until the employer recognizes the claim of the employee to a voice in the settlement of questions relating to making the hours and conditions of labor. It can be done by the employer, who have been born and bred with the instincts of free men, will submit tamely to a system which places their welfare entirely in the hands of others. This suggestion that the employee have a right to a voice in what is called their employers' business will be new to many, and the more it is considered the more just it will show itself to be, and it will be finally accepted as a truth."

For twenty or thirty years in many large industries in England all questions of wages, hours and conditions of work have been settled without strikes or lockouts, and the result has been a more peaceful and prosperous condition of the laboring classes. This has been accomplished by the establishment of boards of arbitration, on which the associations of employers and employees have been represented by delegates chosen from each side. These boards have been successful in settling all disputes between the employer and employee, and have always had an equal representation. In our country also, we have many such boards, and have met with equal success, but the practice of justice with us has been neither so long nor so widely extended as in England. It is the only solution of the difficulties of the labor question, and it is the only way to a more peaceful and prosperous condition of the laboring classes. It is the only way to a more peaceful and prosperous condition of the laboring classes."

OFF THE RAILS. Passengers En Route to Anarchist Memorial Services Shaken Up. CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Hundreds of men, women and children who were passengers on the special train of ten cars on the Chicago and Northern Pacific Railroad, en route for Waldheim Cemetery this afternoon to attend the Anarchist memorial services, experienced a very narrow escape from serious injury and probably death by the derailing of the engine and one coach. The persons who received injuries were Patrick Leahy, the engineer, and Walter Charlton, the fireman, who were slightly bruised about the arms and body. Their engine left the track at Crawford and ran into a wooden switch, and was followed by the foremost coach. The passengers were thrown from their seats and a scene of wild confusion followed. The stoppage of the train, however, put a switchman at the West Fortieth-street junction caused the wreck by misplacing a switch.

Following is a list of those seriously or otherwise injured: WALTER CHARLTON, a fireman. LOUIS GROSSMAN, a passenger. PHILIP HARTMANN, a passenger. MRS. J. HEINEMANN, a passenger. PATRICK LEAHY, the engineer. PAUL LICHTENHEIM, a passenger. JOHN J. RITZERT, a passenger. LON TUSCHLER, a passenger. H. VITTO, a passenger. H. WEITZER, a passenger.

A NOVEL TEST. Gov. Flower Will Allow Experiments with Electrocuting Convicts. Associated Press Lead-wire Service. ALBANY (N. Y.), Nov. 11.—Gov. Flower is willing to allow experiments to be made to ascertain whether a man killed in the electrical chair can be resuscitated. Ever since the adoption of the electrical execution act by the State, the Westinghouse people, whose dynamos are used, have declared electricity was not the cause of death, but that it was the result of the shock of an autopsy directly after the body had been taken from the electrical chair. No less an authority than Nicola Tesla, the famous electrician, contended that he could bring back to life a man killed in an electrical chair, provided the attempt was made immediately after the execution. George Westinghouse has always asserted that electrical death was a sham and that a New York commission, headed by E. T. Gerry, had made it a point to show that it was not.

Within the last few weeks the agitation of the subject has become prominent, and an appeal is to be made to the Governor to allow the next man condemned to be used as a subject to be experimented on. Gov. Flower says he will grant permission to do this. If successful, the experiment will bring to life a new man who cannot be executed, having once suffered the penalty of death. It will also prove the State executioners have been the surgeons who have held the autopsy, rather than the electrician.

Forest Fires in Arkansas and Tennessee Dying Out. MEMPHIS, Nov. 11.—The forest fires in Arkansas and Tennessee, north of Memphis, have about spent their fury. The flames have burned to the banks of the Mississippi River and stopped. The damage reported today was small, being confined to the destruction of a few of the fences around plantations on the Arkansas side of the river. There are still no signs of rain, and are felt that the fires will break out in other regions. The St. Francis Basin is as dry as a chip, and lumber men fear that if the fires should get a start in that section the losses would be heavy. The smoke is disappearing from the city, and river traffic is unimpeded.

NO LIVES LOST. MEMPHIS (Tenn.), Nov. 11.—The story sent out from Memphis yesterday by a special correspondent that several lives had been lost in the forest fires near this city is untrue. In Arkansas the damage to property is much smaller than the first reports stated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—An accident which miraculously escaped fatalities occurred in connection with an outdoor religious service this afternoon. An independent church, the cardinal principle of which is the belief that the Anglo-Saxon race is one of the lost tribes of Israel, has been founded by Rev. Allen, who has held revival services, culminating today in a public baptism of converts in the waters of the bay.

The announcement of the ceremony attracted an immense crowd to North Beach. Several hundred people were on the Taylor-street wharf, and 150 were standing on a broad stairway, leading down to the wharf. The women of the church, who were dressed in white, were standing on the wharf, and the men were standing on the stairway. The ceremony was being held in the waters of the bay, and the crowd was very large. The ceremony was being held in the waters of the bay, and the crowd was very large.

JURY "FIXERS."

Sensational Discoveries in the Case of Two Lynchers.

Associated Press Lead-wire Service. MEMPHIS (Tenn.), Nov. 11.—There have been further sensational discoveries with regard to the efforts to "fix" the jury in the trial of W. S. Richardson and H. N. Smith, charged with the multiple lynchings near Millington, and tomorrow Prosecuting Attorney Patterson will ask the court to discharge the eleven men that have been secured after a week's examination of 600 takersmen. The Attorney-General will present to the court an affidavit that nearly all of these 600 persons summoned for jury service have been selected from among the known friends of the accused and one jurymen, it will be shown by affidavits, asserted that he would not convict a white man for killing a negro.

The Attorney-General will also move the court to relieve Sheriff McCarver from the duty of selecting the jury in this case. It is because of the manner in which the Sheriff has summoned the jury and in the manner in which he has treated the prisoners. The attorney has learned that, since the incarceration, both Smith and Richardson have been looked on more than on one occasion. But G. H. Harrison, of the Sheriff, is prosecuting witness in the case and has constantly been in communication with the accused, who, while in jail, have been allowed extraordinary liberties.

The services were brief, after which the body was taken to the funeral home.

A BIG SNOWSTORM. Heaviest Fall Known in Indiana at This Season. Associated Press Lead-wire Service. FT. WAYNE (Ind.), Nov. 11.—There was a big snowstorm between Plymouth and Ellettsville, which was pronounced the heaviest fall known in Indiana, this early in the season. Snow began falling at 3 o'clock a.m. and continued until 5 o'clock this evening. The fall averaged from eight to eighteen inches.

The railroads were blocked and at one time a dozen engines and three tie trains were snowed out. The West-bound Pennsylvania Limited was delayed three and a half hours. The Chicago paper train due here at 6:30 a.m. arrived three hours late. The freight trains were snowed out for hours. The snow was piled tonight, and all trains are on time.

WRECKAGE THROWN UP NEAR FISHERS' POINT, LAKE HURON. EAST TAWAS (Mich.), Nov. 11.—Not even a pencil mark could be found upon the wreckage which had been thrown upon the beach by the storm, near Fishers' Point, five miles north of here, on Lake Huron. The wreckage of the steamer which went to the bottom somewhere off that point, Thursday or Friday, remains a mystery, even after many hours spent in hunting over the wreckage for her name. Everything which has been thrown up on the beach indicates the steamer was of the Great Lakes type. In this case she probably carried a crew of about twenty, all of whom are undoubtedly lost.

THE PALMS. A Statesman Remembered. ROUSE (France), Nov. 11.—A monument to Augustus Thomas Foster-Quartier, the distinguished French statesman who died in this city in 1891, was unveiled here today. It is a fine monument, and is a fitting tribute to the memory of a great statesman. It is a fine monument, and is a fitting tribute to the memory of a great statesman.

A State Treasurer Dead. SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), Nov. 11.—Rufus M. Ramsam, State Treasurer, died at his home in Carle, Clinton county, today of heart failure. He was 65 years of age, and had been ill for some time. He was a very popular man, and was well liked by the people. He was a very popular man, and was well liked by the people.

Forest Fires in Arkansas and Tennessee Dying Out. MEMPHIS, Nov. 11.—The forest fires in Arkansas and Tennessee, north of Memphis, have about spent their fury. The flames have burned to the banks of the Mississippi River and stopped. The damage reported today was small, being confined to the destruction of a few of the fences around plantations on the Arkansas side of the river. There are still no signs of rain, and are felt that the fires will break out in other regions. The St. Francis Basin is as dry as a chip, and lumber men fear that if the fires should get a start in that section the losses would be heavy. The smoke is disappearing from the city, and river traffic is unimpeded.

NO LIVES LOST. MEMPHIS (Tenn.), Nov. 11.—The story sent out from Memphis yesterday by a special correspondent that several lives had been lost in the forest fires near this city is untrue. In Arkansas the damage to property is much smaller than the first reports stated.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

GRAND.—The Nihilists.
AMERICAN.—The Nihilists.
BURBANK.—Count di Rimini.

The "Liners" in The Times yesterday were:
Number of separate notices.....1030
Number of columns.....254
Number of pages, over.....34
Exceeding all previous records in this class of advertising. The whole number of columns of advertising printed was 68. This record means something. Business men do not advertise for pastime; they seek results, and unless they get results, will cease advertising in the medium that disappoints them. The conclusion is that they get results by advertising in The Times. And it does not require a spy-glass to see the results.

THE BOYCOTT IN POLITICS.

Four years ago, Gov. Markham was threatened with defeat by "organized labor" on account of the support given him by The Times; and a "deal" was made with the Democrats (involving also the Herald of this city) by which Pond was to get the benefit of the "powerful aid" of these pretentious law-jerking politicians, whose "power" lies chiefly in their noise and not in their numbers. What was the result? They fell down, Pond fell down, and Markham was triumphantly elected.

In the same year (1890) the Republican candidate for Mayor of San Francisco was violently opposed, with a loud roar, by the same sort of vicious proscriptions, on the pretense that he was unsound on the question of "labor," and a special effort was made to defeat him. What was the result? He was triumphantly elected, and his assailants fell down.

In the same year (1890) Supervisor Forrester (Republican) of this city, was assailed by the defeated boycotters and lawless proscriptions of the Los Angeles "Council of Labor" (which never labors) because of the friendship supposed to subsist between him and this journal, and a concerted effort was made on the anonymous-circular plan, of course—to defeat him for office. What was the result? The gang fell down, and Forrester was triumphantly elected.

And so on, to the end of the chapter, the results of the futile, impotent and despicable efforts of these blind advocates of an impossible, unjust and un-American policy in this free republic, could be shown up.

Business men, and even politicians—the most cowardly and time-serving creatures in existence—are fast learning the folly and the needlessness, as well as the humiliating untruthfulness and the unquestionable impolicy of yielding to the threats of organized tyranny and associated impudence. They are fast learning the value of personal and property rights—the value of human liberty—in this land, a land that ought to be kept free; and they are appreciating more fully and more keenly than ever before the serious consequences to them of surrendering those rights and that liberty, and the paving the way for their own enslavement.

"We who would first strike the blow."

We do not doubt that if M. M. Estece had done his duty by the Republican party, had taken a bold and honest stand on the labor question, and had come out as soon as he was nominated with a strong declaration against the lawlessness and the dangerous tendency to the lawlessness of our system, the lawless existence of our system of government of the Debs and labor-insurrection—we do not, we say, think that, had the Republican nominee done this, he would have been today triumphantly elected Governor of California, instead of groping as he is in the Valley of Defeat.

However is elected Governor in California, there must be an end to boss rule, actual or apparent. The Republican or the State are sufficiently independent to manage their own affairs without the aid of Burns, Stump, or anybody else, and may be permitted to resent unwarranted impudent interference. Estece was elected in himself, but when handled by a machine he was simply a machine. His defeat, if defeat it is, is as significant as the rout of many, and the effect will, we think, be quite as salutary. Let the keep hands off!

Business men—advertisers in The Times—will smile with satisfaction at the well-authenticated report that the cowardly and irresponsible misdoers who have been annoying readers of the Times in the name of the "Council of Labor," an anonymous law-jerking organization, have been told their evil course. Their has been, or will be, cut off, as the Eastern and State labor headquarters upon which they have long been drawing for money "to prosecute the boycott" have at last "got onto" their thieving methods; in consequence of which discovery word has been sent here to look for no more funds to be squandered uselessly and for the private benefit of two or three venal, hired boycotters and professional walking delegates. Mr. Cyren E. Fiske and his peculiar breed of canines—who resemble real working men about as much as the yellow, yelping and mangy cur resembles the noble mastiff—will shortly have occasion to howl some more. Let them bark!

Listen to Walking Delegate Gompers:

"Without much concert of effort by organized labor the people have rebuked at the polls your assumption of the unconstitutional use of the military power to crush labor. Though the changes benefit us little the rebuke will nevertheless be appreciated and remembered."

The above is a dispatch which the aforesaid walking delegate is said to have sent to President Cleveland on November 8, in which Mr. Gompers, as usual, writes himself down an ass. The Republican victory has about as much connection with the calling out of the troops to suppress the labor insurrection last summer as it had with the transit of Mercury. The labor vote was only the fly on the wheel.

The man with a gun has made his latest appearance in a lodge-room at St. Louis City, Iowa, puncturing his protest against the goat with short sharp shots from his trusty bulldog. He was promptly "thrown into the street," but let it be recorded that he had his say first. The dispatch announcing the event laconically says: "He will not become a member of the order." Probably not! So far as that particular individual is concerned, the goat may go-it unriden and be blown to him.

Henry T. Hazard has filed his petition as an independent candidate for Mayor. It bears the signatures of 500 citizens, which were obtained in the course of two or three hours. He has fully complied with the law in this respect, and is now before the people as a candidate for the first municipal office. The campaign may now be considered as fully inaugurated. Mr. Hazard will receive a hearty vote from all classes of good citizens, and we believe that he will be elected.

The figures on the candidates for Governor are unpleasantly close. Better a landslide than a margin so narrow that question as to the count may be raised. As unsatisfactory as Budd is, better four long weary years of his almost insufferable ego than any other man with a talent upon his plurality. Let us have nothing but an honest count—the Southern method does not go in California.

The astute "gents" who have been industriously stuffing the register in San Francisco are now stuffing the jail with their measly and worthless carcasses. If the "evolute" can continue until they are stuffed into Folsom prison for a good long term of years, the inhabitants of California will be under renewed obligations to the powers that be.

The German autocrat is causing great uneasiness in his realm by his "lightning changes." The young hot-head may yet embroil all Europe in war. What a pity that it is not possible for a Bismarck to take across his knee the great emperor's Jim Budd and administer a deserved spanking.

Even the Louisiana Democrats are said to be ashamed of the bare-faced frauds in that State, which make it necessary for a number of the Republican candidates for Congress to take their cases before the House. When a Louisiana Democrat gags at a dose, it must be rank, indeed.

The official life of the Fifty-third Congress will expire on the 4th of March next, a fact which will help materially to restore confidence and benefit business. But it should not be forgotten that a great deal of harm can be done between now and the 4th of March.

The colored troops are preparing to march on Liberia, but the quest is a peaceful one; they want to reach a land where the returning board is unblamed, and the Whiteman and the Ku Klux is unknown. The world will wish them good luck and God-speed.

One of the marked surprises of the voting on Tuesday last is the fact that rock-ribbed Democratic Tennessee has actually elected a Republican Governor. This means far more to the South than it does to the country this side of Mason and Dixon's line. When ever that section is split politically look out for a boom, the like of which has never seen. The Times congratulates the great State of Tennessee on breaking loose from Bourbonism, thereby offering a fair field to the people of all political faiths.

The following dispatch has been received from W. C. Patterson, who has been absent in Ohio several weeks: CHILLICOTHE (O.), Nov. 1, 1894. Have just wired Luitwiler and other citizens refusing the use of my name as against Hazard.

W. C. PATTERSON.
The friends of the Fighting McCook, who are legion in Los Angeles, will rejoice with The Times in congratulating that gallant soldier on the acquisition of another star on his epaulet. It is a promotion richly earned by service on the bloody fields of war.

It is a bad month for tigers. Even the Princeton "varmint" has gone down in defeat with the ring-streaked and striped beast of Tammany, in its contest with the footballers of the Pennsylvania University. 'Rah for the blue!

The waters of Salt River are overcrowded with Democratic craft; in fact, the old stream is massed with them from bank to bank; and they are a mighty leaky lot of old barnacle-covered scows at that.

"The only good Indian is a dead Indian." The same remark, with some trifling modifications, is applicable to the Democratic party. It is only good when it is in a hopeless minority, and is powerless for evil.

The Iowa State Register, just prior to the election, said: "We want in Iowa a plurality went up toward 50,000." The State Register has no just ground for complaint. It got about what it wanted.

Grover will feel pretty lonesome, no doubt, when he is left stranded high and dry by the receding wave of the big Democratic majority in Congress. But Grover will still have Senator Hill to comfort him.

The Democrats will, to all appearances, have to fall back on Jim Budd as their presidential candidate. All the rest of them have been made impotent. Just think of "it" as President!

What has become of the Los Angeles Republican candidates who were threatened with the bludgeon of the boycott and the wrath of the men of the "union label"? All elected, every one!

In Wisconsin there stood on the burning deck, Man running for Governor—name of Peck; Up jumped one Ubanum into view, And said, 'I'll take a Peck or two.' And then he landed him.

Col. Watterston's remark about marching through a slaughter-house to an open grave seems to have been justified by the facts this time, if it wasn't the last one before.

The answer to the question, "Where did you get that hat?" is now pretty generally understood to be: "Won it on election."

The Republican majority will now proceed to the downing of that other arch enemy, Turkey—and cranberry sauce.

The footballers are at present mopping the earth with each other's chrysanthemum heads, with tremendous zeal.

The new tariff has caused quite a decided trade revival in the line of horses, mules and cattle—in Mexico.

Democrats should be remembered that revolutions never go backward.

It is amusing to see how the world was topped up with Adlai.

Now watch Adolph Sutro become suddenly conservative.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

ATTRACTIONS TONIGHT.—Good bills are promised at all the theaters this evening. The Grand puts in Theodore Kremer's "The Nihilist," with the author in a leading role. The Imperial will present a number of new people in entertaining specialties, and the Burbank will give "Count di Rimini," in which that popular actor, Darrell Vinton, makes his reappearance.

AT THE CHURCHES.

National Guardsmen Attend Religious Service.

Their Chaplain, Rev. Alfred S. Clark, Preaches a Vigorous Sermon.

"Our Unconscious Life" the Subject Discussed at Unity Church—Y. M. C. A. Work—Other Services Held Yesterday.

The Seventh Regiment, National Guards of California, attended service yesterday at Christ Episcopal Church, where the Rev. Alfred S. Clark, chaplain in the guards and rector of the parish. The command, under Col. William G. Schrieber, with staff and line officers, without arms or accoutrements, in the colors and preceded by their large drum and bugle corps, marched from the armory to the church.

Three companies were in line, each with a large complement of men. Arriving at the church, the companies were marched in, the drums and bugles placed at the altar, and the service began. The Rev. Mr. Clark, in the pulpit, discussed the subject of "Our Unconscious Life," the subject of the sermon. The command, under Col. William G. Schrieber, with staff and line officers, without arms or accoutrements, in the colors and preceded by their large drum and bugle corps, marched from the armory to the church.

Morning prayer was said, and a hymn to the tune of "Lambeth Walk" was sung by choir and congregation. Then came the special sermon, an abstract of which is as follows:

"Nihilism is, I think, the worst of all heresies. It is the denial of all that is good and true. It is the denial of all that is noble and beautiful. BERKELEY BREEZES.

The Shame of Breckinridge
California.A Mission for Our Christian Women that Was not Fulfilled.November Days in the Wooded Berkeley Hills—The Noble University Grounds—The Boys
Will "Play Ball."

BERKELEY, Nov. 8, 1894.—(Staff Correspondence of The Times.) It is with a deep feeling of political shame that I address myself to the great Golden State this morning. While I rejoice in the great tidal wave of Republican victory that has swept over the land from Maine to California, and the promise which it gives of future prosperity to the country at large, I hang my head in disgust and mortification at the great Golden State of the Pacific—the Empire State of the mighty West, should have cast its vote for a man for Governor whose name is covered with the infamy of the seducer and the betrayer of young womanhood. The women of Kentucky have put to blush the women of California. First with a just indignation at the depravity and lust of the man who would represent their district in Congress, the women of that district brought the whole pressure of their virtuous abhorrence and sense of outraged womanhood to bear upon him, and they buried him in a political grave so deep that no party will dare attempt his resurrection.

And so should it have been with James H. Budd. Where were the noble and virtuous wives and mothers of California that they did not arise and say, this great insult to womanhood shall not be permitted. That lonely, neglected grave of Nancy Neff is an enduring protest against it. We appeal to the manhood of California to the morality of our great State to declare that it shall not be. But alas! the voice of woman was silent. She uttered no indignant public protest against this political outrage, and the blackness of this shame has fallen upon us; the Democracy of California has evidenced its cowardice and pusillanimity by placing in the chair of State a man whose presence there mocks at virtue, strikes at the sanctity of the home and the guiltlessness of unassuming maidenhood. It proclaims that immorality and the indulgence of vilest lust does not debar a man from political honor and high place in California so far as the Democratic party is concerned. What more will Democracy give us, or with what greater reproach can it visit us?

I am pleased to see that Budd's majority is not chargeable to our Southern counties. The odium must rest upon the Northern Democracy of the State, and especially upon the great majority of the election of this man will be a bitter drop in the cup of every self-respecting individual's rejoicing at the greatness of Republican victory. Grover, Breckinridge, and Budd! What a noble and virtuous Democratic trinity!

The weather here continues fine, almost free from fog, with clear, bright days, warm as midsummer. It is satisfying to be out of doors, for the balmy air is full of delicious softness, and since the heavy rains, growth has been very rapid. The young grass is already several inches high, and the cattle feed in fat pastures, and stand big with content, chewing their cud in the midday hour.

More fully than heretofore have I realized since my stay here the desirability of fine and extensive parks for Los Angeles—the city whose name is in the mouth of every newcomer to this State. Day after day I have passed hours in the beautiful and extensive grounds of the State University at Berkeley, and in which I am now writing, and have wished that our parks were as well cared for, and as extensively beautified as these grounds have been. In these 160 acres belonging to this institution, there is the greatest variety of landscape. There are high hills full of semi-wonders, and where the vision takes in a magnificent prospect—the wide sweep of the island-dotted bay, with its blue waters flashing in the sunlight, the blue sweep of promontory and shore; of rounded hills and mountain heights; of wide, level valleys dotted with towns and cities, of white-walled San Quentin, where, away from all the beauty of this outdoor world, the wretched prisoners drag out the penality of long confinement. Here Mr. Tanais confronts us, his forehead bared to the first rays of the rising sun, and the Golden Gate grows more golden in the glowing sunsets.

Here, too, are great canyons, bordered with trees and tiny brooks, that go tinkling all the day and night in silver waters. Here grow oaks a century old, the great spreading, patriarchal limbs from which drop the ripened acorns. Here, also, are mighty cedars, and spire-like eucalypti, with their plumed, aromatic branches and the scent of bay and eucalyptus and flowering acacia, the music of their streams, and their tangles of copious dell, with butter-flies and bees and birds everywhere companionable.

There is scarce a grander sweep of vision in the vicinity of Los Angeles than may be had from the summit of the higher hills of Elysian Park, a view that affords everything that enters into a perfect landscape—lofty mountain ranges, their more elevated peaks, snow-capped, towering toward the blue; the sea, vast and shining, dotted with green isles, and stretching away to the horizon's verge; valleys, green and smiling with harvest; orchards and vineyards, lifting the emerald of their leaves above the valleys and plains; rivers running to the sea, and Los Angeles, the fast-growing metropolis of Southernland, lying at our feet, or crowning the lower hills with its elegant homes; beautiful, cup-like pools within the park's enclosure, where, in their bell-shaped spots, rich tropic plants and flowers would thrive unimpeded by frost and chill; spots where artificial lakes might easily be formed; quiet canyons, filled with Nature's simple beauty—all these, and more, we have within these boundaries, out of which we could make a park which it would be worth while to cross the continent to see.

NEWSBOYS' HOME.

The Annual Report of the Matron Presented.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the News and Working Boys' Home Society the following report was read by Mary C. Housel, matron of the home:

"Eighty-five boys have been given the privilege of the home within the past year. Of these seven have found work which has taken them away from the home. Twenty-seven, to our knowledge, have left with no definite aim. Twenty-one have returned to their own homes. Three were sent to the Whittier State School. Five were suspended and did not return, and three were expelled. One little fellow, who had been with us for one year and a half was adopted by a family in Clearwater."

"Last July a cruel elevator took the life of one of our brightest and noblest boys. He had been in the home for over two years, and had lived an exemplary life, exerting a strong Christian influence in the midst of opposition and discouragements. We are greatly indebted to the many people who gave such timely assistance at his burial. There being a profusion of flowers sent, as well as carriages from some of the leading stables, favors granted by the funeral directors, and kindly remembrances of money from the firms who had employed the boy, as well as from many boys who, like ours, were struggling to maintain themselves. They contributed their mites toward assisting in the last and rite of burial."

"Many of our boys are forming manly and self-supporting principles, they having paid us during the past year for board and lodging $770.19, which has been expended as follows: Milk, $44.30; meat, $151.45; bread, $5.00; groceries, $75.50; fuel, $107; labor, $16.47; groceries, $268.85; financial secretary, $15; sundries, $56.88, leaving a balance of $1.79, which, with the surplus, $35.06, of the preceding year, makes a total balance of $37.85."

"About six of the boys have gone to school regularly. Some of them attempted to go to school at night, but have since given it up, it being a difficult matter after a day's hard work to become thoroughly interested in school work. "The moral and religious training in our home has been aided by Mrs. Miller's class in the Sunday-school of the First Congregational Church. They have held a weekly prayer and song service with scriptural teaching almost every Friday night for the past eight months. Through their efforts the Endeavor Society has contributed flowers, games, reading matter, song books, etc. It has given two entertainments and one social in the home. The boys have been taken to church once upon each Sabbath, unless something unavoidable prevented. The Catholics go to the Cathedral, and the Protestants usually to the Bethlehem Church, which is near the home. We are indebted to the Rev. Mr. Pindley of Bethlehem Church for the kindly interest he has manifested in our institution, and the welfare of its boys, always cheerfully advising us in any matter we asked of him, and aiding in many ways. Miss Potter, now wife of Prof. Endale, came to the house for the past few months and gave the boys piano and vocal musical instruction, which, we trust, will prove a means of refinement, and reveal hidden talents."

"The King's Daughters of Trojico and Glendale made their yearly visit, bringing with them thirteen shirts, all nicely made, with their baskets, and spent the day. The impaired health of the boys has received prompt medical attention from the College of Medicine in the University of Southern California, Dr. Still and Dr. Kirkpatrick in several cases also giving attention. We have had no contagious diseases except tonsillitis, and at no time any serious illness."

"We have on hand a good supply of bedding. By mending and cleaning some of the comforters there will be enough to supply our present number of beds for the winter. A few more sheets and pillowcases will be required, also some new cooking utensils; but comparatively little replenishing will be required to continue the work for the coming six months."

WE have a small lot of gingham to sell for less than cost. In looking over the stocks we found 25 pieces more than is necessary to do the business with; the prices to close will be 5c, 6c and 8 1-3c; the regular price is 8 1-3c, 10c and 12 1-2c a yard. We have 30 pieces cotton flannels that have been selling for 15c, 18c and 20c a yard, the price to close will be 10c and 12 1-2c a yard. A small lot of prints that are worth 8 1-3c, now 5c. Outing flannels that have been selling for 12 1-2c now 8 1-2c a yard. You can buy nice felt hats for 25c that have been selling from $1 to $3. You can buy fine Jersey ribbed pants and vests for 33 1-2c, that are worth 50c. In the linen department we are selling out a lot of goods at less than cost; we have made a change in this department and have a lot of goods that will be closed out at some price. The linen department will be put on a sound basis, and all slow sellers will be sold, and better selling goods will take their place. We are improving every department; prices are made an object; the sales are showing a great improvement all through the house. We have marked down a few pieces of fine Moire Silks from $3 to $1.50; they are blacks. We have marked down a little lot of ladies' muslin underwear about one-half to close. You will find on the dress goods counter the best bargains yet offered this season in all-wool goods; a few pieces that have been selling for $1.50 a yard for 75c; a little lot that have been selling for $2 a yard, now 75c; a little lot of fine plain colors that have been selling for $1.25, now 75c; just as staple and good as old wheat in the mill. This dress goods bargain is an unusual one. The dress goods trade is almost treble what it was a year ago. The bargains are the best ever offered in this house. You never saw cloaks as cheap as we are now selling them; the prices are lower, the styles are better, the styles far superior when the price is considered, to anything yet offered in the cloak department. A few special offerings will be made Monday that will be interesting to all cloak buyers. We are offering decided bargains in fur capes, and every fur cape in the house is new this season. We have cut the profits down fully one-half. The cloak sales are responding to this new order of things. If there is a slow seller in the house on account of price, the price is reduced to make it sell.

U. S. Weather Bureau, Los Angeles, Nov. 11.—At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.14; at 5 p.m. 30.06. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 46 deg. and 63 deg. Maximum temperature, 77 deg.; minimum temperature, 45 deg. Character of weather, clear. Barometer reduced to sea level.

You may praise, you may censure the "ad" if you will, But the profits of its profit will cling to it still.

From this on William Gibson will continue to occupy Nos. 143 and 144 North Spring street, formerly occupied by Gibson & Tyler Co. His stock of ladies' and misses' shoes will be entirely new, as everything has been made to order within the past few weeks.

The Goodwin brothers will furnish vocal and instrumental quartettes at the Y.M.C.A. tonight. John L. Spears will speak. All men are invited.

The only place in California where you can get pure aluminum ware and nothing else is at Baker's Aluminum Store, No. 212 South Broadway.

Young men should hear John L. Spears at the Y.M.C.A. tonight. The four Goodwin brothers furnish music. Free to all men.

A social, free to all Epworth Leaguers of the city and their friends will be held under the auspices of the First Methodist Episcopal Church November 15, in the church, on Broadway, between Third and Fourth streets.

Detective Babs found the bicycle yesterday that was stolen by Valentine Malay from Mr. Fox of No. 220 South Griffin avenue. After a long and difficult search he found it in the brush far up in the river bed, at an early hour yesterday morning.

The Board of Education is to hold a meeting this evening, when the usual budget of demands will be presented for approval. What other matters the board will take up remains to be seen. It is thought some action may be taken in the matter of the appointment of an engineer to attend to the new heating and ventilating apparatus at the High School.

The satisfactory arrangement agreed upon for the laying of a conduit on San Pedro street to carry sewage to the South Side Irrigation Company's canal will probably be entered into within a short time. The city is only deferring the contract with the sewer contractor for the construction of the conduit until the company will advance the money to pay the contract price and contract with the city for the latter to furnish an additional quantity of sewage for a term of years in payment for the new conduit, the price of the construction of which is to be immediately advanced by the company.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson of New York are in town.

Ex-Gov. N. O. Murphy of Phoenix, Ariz., is at the Nadeau.

A WORTHLESS CHECK.

J. F. Knapp Had No Funds in the Bank.

J. F. Knapp was arrested Saturday by Officer Johnson, a misadventurer, and is jailed at the City Prison. He drew a check on the National Bank of California, when it was ascertained he had no funds on deposit. When taken it is said that he was ready to make his escape to San Francisco.

At Pasadena.

Gen. Lew Wallace will deliver at the tabernacle in Pasadena tonight, under the auspices of Throop Polytechnic, his interesting lecture on "Turkey and the Turk." Gen. Wallace was minister of the United States to Turkey for four years, and will be able to give a very instructive talk in regard to the history of that interesting country, its people, their customs and manner of living.

The Choctaw Troubles.

SOUTH MALESTER. T. J. Nov. 11.—The Choctaw troubles have the peculiarly settled by a peace council, composed of influential men belonging to both parties. The tried prisoners, who were to have been tried at Wilburton tomorrow, have been released on their own recognizance until the next session of the council, when all the troubles will be peacefully settled. The prisoners have gone to the Chickasaw nation to reside until all sent for by the council.

Nebraska's Freight-rate Bill.

OMAHA, Nov. 11.—Judge Brewer of the Federal Court, through Judge Dundy of this district, is expected to hand down his decision on the Nebraska Maximum Freight-rate Bill tomorrow. This law was passed by the Legislature of 1893, reducing freight rates materially. The railroad industry insisted that it meant the confiscation of their property, and it was suspended, pending a decision.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Matters to Come up at Today's Session.

There are a number of matters of municipal interest to be presented to the City Council today, and if much time is spent in ordinary over them the Council will probably hold a lengthy session.

The question of the quality of work done in connection with the grading of New Fourth street, between Lucas avenue and Fifth street, has, from time to time, received a good deal of attention. Last week it was referred to the Board of Public Works, and that body will have an opportunity to report on it today.

The matter of the petition, both for and against the continuance of the operation of the toboggan slide, at its present location, is another matter which was last week referred to the Board of Public Works, and which will probably be considered again today.

The revised form of the city charter is expected to be submitted for approval. As some of the Councilmen are more than likely to want certain changes made, it is scarcely to be expected that the revised form will be approved by the Council today.

The ordinance calling the regular city election will be passed today. The Councilmen are invited to the reception held at the Nadeau Saturday evening, most of whom were present, was inadvertently omitted from the report published yesterday morning: Prof. and Mrs. T. S. C. Lowe, Miss Edna Lowe, Thaddeus Lowe, Gen. Lew Wallace, Maj. and Mrs. Ben C. Truman, and Mrs. B. P. Runkle, G. W. James, Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Seamans, Maj. and Mrs. L. S. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Gilbert, Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Newman, Capt. and Mrs. Gilbert, U. S. A., and Mrs. E. F. Starr, U. S. A.; Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Maynard, Maj. and Mrs. E. F. C. Klokke, Dr. M. P. Price, Col. George H. Kimball, and Mrs. F. P. Laycock, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Swaine, Capt. A. W. Barrett, Col. and Mrs. J. M. C. Marble, Maj. George H. Bonebrake, Maj. J. A. Donnell, and Miss Donnell, Gen. and Mrs. E. F. Johnson, Gov. H. H. Markham, Capt. S. N. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Whitmore, Col. J. R. Dunkelberger, Maj. Joseph R. Haugb, Col. H. G. Oils.

THE LOYAL LEGION.

A List of the Guests at the Nadeau Reception.

The following list of names of the guests invited to the reception held at the Nadeau Saturday evening, most of whom were present, was inadvertently omitted from the report published yesterday morning: Prof. and Mrs. T. S. C. Lowe, Miss Edna Lowe, Thaddeus Lowe, Gen. Lew Wallace, Maj. and Mrs. Ben C. Truman, and Mrs. B. P. Runkle, G. W. James, Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Seamans, Maj. and Mrs. L. S. Extremely Modest.

(Detroit Free Press.) The barber, who also dresses ladies' hair at their homes, was shaving a customer in his shop and, of course, talking.

"I like this kind of work better than fixing ladies' hair," he said.

"I shouldn't think so," said the customer.

Well, I do. You see, sir, the ladies are so particular and finicky, and one I've got is so modest that she makes me tired.

"Modesty is woman's greatest charm," said the customer sentimentally.

"Not when they overdo it, like this one. Why, sir, would you believe it when I go there to fix her up, she always comes in with a table cloth wrapped around her head, because, as she says, she can't bear the thought of my looking at her hair when it isn't dressed. Now, what do you think of that?"

F. E. BROWNE'S STEEL DOOR FURNACES are just as popular as his Orient Lamp Store. They both eclipse all others. See them. No. 214 South Spring street.

WILL BE OPENED MONDAY

Our Monster New Toy Salesroom. The largest in the West. More happiness to the square foot for the little ones than in any other place on earth. Come and bring the children. We don't expect to sell toys Monday; we just want to show "how big" the show is. There are sights that will please the children of a larger growth, too.

Dress Goods.

The greatest events of the age are in its best thoughts.

Our fabric ensemble represents the best thoughts of the present Dress Goods age.

This makes our offerings for this week eventful.

Price tales as we tell them:

At 50c 35 distinct designs in all-wool suitings (some with a little silk thread), 35 inches wide; probably worth a quarter more.

At 75c Silk and wool novelties, winsome weaves; the assortment is beautiful; 40 inches wide, welcome weights for fall; a dollar might have done as well.

At $1.00 Extremely effective new stuffs in silk and wool mixtures; two widths, 40 and 42 inches; either is worth a third more.

At $1.25 High grade novelties, such as are in vogue at the capital of fashion, "Paris"; $1.50 and $2.00 worth in this assortment.

Black Goods.

Suitable suitings for service distinguish the offerings for the coming week. The new novelties are quite out of the ordinary.

Black Novelty Dress Goods, 75c worth, 50c.

Black 42-inch Storm Serges, $1.00 worth, 75c.

Silks.

Success is never attained by luck. It was shrewd handling of the silk conditions on the part of our buyer that gave to us the command of the silk trade here. The last news from him is as follows:

Black Satin Rhadames, the 81 kind 65c.

Black Satin Francise Silk, 21-inch 50c.

New figured Novelty Black Silks at $1.00.

75c grade, 27 inch, Punjab Silks at 50c; full line of colors.

Exquisite two-tone Novelty Silks at 75c.

Very rich fancy figured Silks at $1.00.

Women's Jackets.

Ten dollars is a very moderate price for Jackets as good as these. The cloths are brown coverts, black beaver and black English kersey; velvet collars, Baltic seal collars and braid embellishments prevail. There are, all told, a dozen sorts, every one after the most recent modes.

Fur Capes.

Our collection is the market-maker on Fur Cape prices in Los Angeles; no one single little cloak shop can compete with the large-scale buying of a broad gauge house like this; that's reasonable.

Read the market-making prices: 24-inch Japanese Seal Fur Cape, $13.

27-inch Japanese Seal Fur Cape, $14.

30-inch black Astrakhan Cape, $14.
